PRODUCT NAME: Meander

DESIGNER: Niels Bendtsen & Giancarlo Stefani, Bendtsen Design Associates

PRODUCT CATEGORY: Modular Sofa, Lounge

INTRODUCTION DATE: June 12, 2017

PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Meander is a response to the ongoing shift in contract environments to look and feel like residential. The modular, “resi-mercial” design balances the comforts of home with high-performance durability, creating an inviting, casual lounge for guests and employees alike.

Designed by Niels Bendtsen & Giancarlo Stefani of Bendtsen Design Associates, Meander can curve and connect every which way using 14 different pieces including ottomans, sofa seats and corner pieces that curve at 70 and 90 degrees. Equally at home in residential or corporate settings, it makes a relaxed statement while still exuding an air of luxury. Clean lines and large, full, stuffed cushions appear to float above the ground on visually delicate, solid iron legs.

“It’s an incredibly inviting sit,” says Jackie Maze, Vice President of Sales & Marketing at Keilhauer. “While prototyping the original model we found our employees and guests rushing to sit and exclaiming how comfortable it was. It brought a smile to my face when I noticed how it particularly excited our younger team members when they saw this new piece.”

The collection can be configured and connected through ganging at the pieces legs. Removal gang plates and chair legs add flexibility; configurations can be adjusted as needs evolve. Meander is fully upholsterable in any Keilhauer textile, COL or COM.
