

Measure Square Revolutionizes Commercial Takeoff Software With The Launch Of Version 8

PASADENA, CA—Measure Square, a leading developer of flooring software and apps, today announced Measure Square 8, which is a major upgrade of the company's commercial takeoff platform. The software, which is built on Microsoft's Azure cloud, provides features like elevation designs, 3D models and installation phasing

"We continue to innovate to ensure our customers have the most advanced technologies and services," said Dr. Steven Wang, the CEO and co-founder of Measure Square. "We have the benefit of thousands of customers who provide us invaluable feedback and insight, making our software more powerful."

Measure Square 8 delivers the following:

- Large Projects: Import 100+ pages in a matter of moments.
- Autocomplete: Quickly draw a room – by finishing with one click – based on previously drawn walls.
- Random Tile Pattern Designer: Set the percentages and then apply the tiles.
- Customizable Bid Worksheets: Easily design professional bids within Measure Square 8 – which can then be exported to Excel.
- Finish Schedules: Customize individual waste percentages for products such as tile and the waste percentages are calculated for role goods.
- Phase Tool: Easily create estimates as well as display diagrams, quantities and documents at the phase level.
- Project Items List: Quickly input complex finish schedules in a list format rather than product-by-product.
- Wall Stacks: Draw them with a single click.

"Measure Square is strategic for our business and ecosystem," said Bill Koch, who is the chief estimator at Acousti Engineering. "As for version 8, I'm thrilled with the boost in efficiency and speed with our takeoffs. The software enables customers to get up and running in a short timeframe to achieve faster time to value and ROI."
