A-Lounge designed by jehs+laub

From the designers who brought you the ideal side chair comes A-Lounge, an expansion to the A-Collection by jehs+laub. The eye-catching A-frame of the base has a distinctive style that sheds light on the collection's namesake. With a style that is classic and timeless while maintaining a modern edge, the A-Lounge can adapt to all environments.

The A-Lounge offers a comfortable, clean design with a small footprint. This lounge chair is more compact than most with an unmistakable look. The seat sits wider and slightly lower than the multipurpose A-Chair, relaxing the user and creating a more comfortable seating experience. This freestanding lounge chair can be used in lounge or waiting areas for seating with first-class comfort.

This lounge chair introduces a new level of comfort to professional settings. With a relaxed, residential feel to it, A-Lounge combines a well-tailored and precise aesthetic with an extraordinary level of comfort. The A-Lounge is available with aluminum legs in polished or powder coated finishes.

Much like its predecessor the A-Chair, the A-Lounge has a uniquely calming design language. The minimalistic design can fill a room without overwhelming it. The clean lines and soft surfaces of A-Lounge create a distinct piece that is very visually light. A-Lounge is an unmistakable member of the A-Collection that coordinates remarkably well with the A-Collection counterparts: A-Chair, A-Bench, and A-Table.
