Cova designed by jehs+laub

Cova is the exemplification of pure, luxurious comfort. With a large down cushion covering the entire chair, Cova's primary objective is supreme comfort with a visually appealing design. Cova's enveloping nature brings residential comfort to commercial spaces.

Cushions filled with down and foam are meticulously designed with segmented compartments to prevent migration of the materials. Each segmented portion of the seat is designed specifically to correspond with the individual parts of the body for ideal seating comfort. This lounge chair is constructed with a fully upholstered shell for a sleek look. Cova includes an optional footrest with the same luxurious cushions for ideal comfort.

Cova introduces a new level of comfort and leisure to commercial spaces with a tilting mechanism that allows for reclined seating. This gas cylinder mechanism features an infinity stop, allowing the chair to rest in any position that is desired. The mechanism is discrete and unobtrusive, but with a functional convenience that prioritizes optimal comfort.

The welcoming nature of Cova adds visual interest and warmth to any space. Cova exudes comfort, with an unmistakable style that communicates coziness and luxury before you ever sit down. The design envelops you, encouraging you to recline, relax, and unwind in a fast-paced world.
