REGENCY FURNITURE UNVEILS PATENT-PENDING 9476 SIDE CHAIR

Akron, OH (Jan. 25, 2019) – On Jan. 14, 2019, Regency Furniture, a leading manufacturer of office furniture, filed for a patent on its 9476 Side Chair, a modern-meets-classic piece that's been nearly a year in the making.

The Regency 9476 Side Chair brings back a once-beloved Paoli design to the modern era. This chair features a mid-century design with a frame constructed of solid wood and a seat made of firm but comfortable upholstery. This chair will soon be available in three different finishes: mocha walnut, natural, and cherry with upholstery choices including navy blue fabric as well as sustainable leather versions in black and grey.

"We re-invisioned some of the lines of the original design to ensure all the angles and radiuses match and flow in the same directions, creating sleeker lines" states William Oakley, Design and Product Development Manager. "The details were taken into deep consideration, even with our use of 100% European hardwood. We're thrilled to be able to bring this quality, stylish, low-cost chair to the market that is made from top-notch materials."

According to Oakley, the applications for patent-pending 9476 Side Chair are numerous and include office and board room seating to residential dining and living.

Based in Akron, OH, Regency Furniture is often recognized for its work with American-made, innovate designs that help solve problems for businesses, schools, and families all over the world in the form of casual, elegant designs.
